PROFILE

Professional software engineer since 2015, with a decade of professional TypeScript experience; building with React since 2016 and Next.js since 2018. Builds dashboards, product platforms, and proprietary data explorers for cybersecurity, crypto, and gaming companies.

Often the first frontend hire, owning architecture, tooling, component libraries, and pipelines, then scaling teams through hiring, onboarding, and playbooks. AI work spans prompt and context engineering, open-source skills, agent harnesses, and automations.
